This 1137m² residential block presents an increasingly rare opportunity to secure coastal land with FORESHORE RESERVE at the rear boundary! As a bonus, drafted plans for a 4 bedroom home, tailored to suit the block, are included!

From the back boundary of this piece of coastal paradise it is less than 400m walk to the waters edge of Lake Curalo and about 600m to the waves of Aslings Beach. The beautiful Lake Curalo Boardwalk is also nearby so you can enjoy leisurely strolls to enjoy the native birdlife or have fun outings on bicycles with the kids. The boardwalk is also a great "non-driving" alternative for access to town, Eden High School or the sporting fields on the other side of the lake.

The drafted house plans make it easy to imagine living in this amazing location. The Eden Cove area is both a quiet and sought after locale with large average sized blocks to give you buffer distance from neighbours and ample yard space to enjoy. It is a modern subdivision with wide streets, wide street frontages and full underground services. The area is popular with families and retirees alike.
